

Situation Vacant

Gasfitter

Christchurch

Gas Engineering Services is a recognized leader in commercial and industrial gas fitting operating from premises in central Christchurch.

An opportunity exists for a licensed gasfitter.

This position involves installation work to motels, hotels, food processing plants, manufacturing and industrial sites as well as the odd domestic house. We do maintenance and repairs for a group of construction companies and have a large number of service clients.

Normal hours of work apply with some additional hours from time to time. A company vehicle will be supplied for work use.

In addition to a gas fitting qualification you should possess good written and oral communication skills, have the ability to work unsupervised or as part of a team and have a focus on quality and attention to detail. Above all a positive attitude towards work and colleagues will be an attribute of the successful applicant. On going in house and external training will be given on all aspects of our work.

If you are interested in joining Christchurch's leading Gas Fitting Company and working on a wide variety of jobs please forward your enquiry to.
